PART I.

LONDON:

J. B. NICHOLS AND SON, PARLIAMENT STREET:

WILLIAM PICKERING, CHANCERY LANE.

At a meeting of the Council of the Surtees Society, on the fourth day of December, 1834, it was

Resolved—That four hundred copies of a Selection from unpublished Wills and Inventories of all Classes of Persons from the Eleventh Century downwards, illustrating the History, Manners, Language, Statistics, &c., of their respective Periods, to be made and transcribed under the superintendence of the Secretary, be printed by the Society.

PREFACE.

"THERE are two entire classes of public records, both highly important, which I am conscious have been but imperfectly used—I mean the Inquisitions Post Mortem and the early Wills.—Of the early Wills we do not possess even a printed catalogue of the names of Testators, much more any work which should communicate to the public the choicer portions of the information, topographical, historical, biographical, literary, which is lurking, unseen by every eye, in the dispersed, the dark and dusty depositories of the testamentary evidence of England. I am persuaded, by experience in such enquiries, that there is no department of antiquarian research, topography, public or literary history, lives of our eminent men in every department, manners, language, which would not be essentially benefited by a publication of matter, which to an experienced eye would appear of importance, in Wills of the Plantagenet, Tudor, and Stuart reigns, while a better acquaintance with these evidences would be the creation of a new world in our gentilitial Antiquities."

The preceding remarks, made by the Rev. Joseph Hunter, in the Preface to the second Volume of his History of the Deanery of Doncaster, induced the Council of the Surtees Society to turn their attention to such early Wills and Inventories as are preserved in the Registry of the Diocese of Durham, illustrative of the public and private history, language, statistics, &c. &c., of the Northern Counties of England; and the present volume is the result of their investigation. In the earlier part of the volume, many new and valuable documents are brought to light, from which the public or local historian may derive the most novel and correct information. That these are not more numerous is owing to frequent chasms in the Registry, occasioned by time or neglect. Those early Wills and Inventories, however, which have presented themselves, and which are now (thanks to public spirit and the press) secure against the attacks of time or accident,* are of sufficient importance to throw great light upon their respective periods, and to excite the Members of the Society to investigate more minutely and effectually this most copious, and hitherto almost entirely unexplored, source of correct public or private information. The early Registers of the Archbishops of York abound with documents of this nature, of the particulars of which almost nothing whatever is known, save the appointed burial place of each individual Testator. To ascertain this trifling fact, Torr, the Historian of York, and the Compiler of much valuable information relative to the Diocese and Province at large, still in MS., seems to have examined them, one after another, with great care, closing his eyes, however, to the clear light which they could throw upon the men and manners of the four first centuries after the Conquest. The time, it may be hoped, is not far distant, when they will be examined again, and with greater anxiety, not to ascertain the burial place of an individual, but as being themselves the burial place of much of the history, general and personal—and in this may be included every other kind of correct information relative to times and things—of all classes of men, over the widely-extending Province of York.

Soon after the year 1500, the Durham Series of Wills begins to be almost entirely perfect; and from that period downwards, as there has been no lack of matter for selection, so the utmost care has been taken to make such a selection as might best carry into effect the objects of the Society. Men of all classes, who have been forgotten for centuries, again appear, and afford the most minute and authentic information, not only relative to themselves and the rank in society which they occupied in their day, but numerous other incidental, and therefore the more valuable, notices and materials for an accurate history of the language and manners of our ancestors.

A few Wills, &c. have been obtained from other sources than the Durham Registry, and a few, which have been already before the public in substance, are reprinted, either at length, when such was not the case before, or are now, for the first time, given accurately, and with a due regard to that most important point, the phraseology of their respective periods, which had been previously either occasionally unattended to, or totally disregarded. Under the former class may be enumerated

N°. XV. [Surtees, II. 381]; and under the latter, N°. XVIII. [SURTEES], XXXIII. [MADOX FORM.] XLVIII. [SURTEES], LI. [ID.], LII. [ANTIQ. REP. and WHIT. RICHM.], LV. [BOURNE'S NEWC. and HODGS. NORTHUMB.]

It has been above remarked, that this source of information has been hitherto almost entirely unexplored. County historians have occasionally availed themselves of the wills of our ancestors, but it has been chiefly for the purpose of ascertaining descent of pedigree and estate. Mr. Surtees has, in his History of Durham, gone a step further than this. He has frequently used these documents in illustration of the rise and fall of families of importance connected with the county of Durham.—Again, in the year 1826, two volumes of Wills, illustrating manners, customs, descent of blood and property, &c., from the reign of HENRY II. to the accession of ELIZABETH, were collected by Sir Nicholas Harris Nicolas, chiefly from printed authorities, and enriched by much valuable preliminary observation, and many useful explanatory and genealogical notes: but the document is rarely given to the public in its original language or phraseology; the Latin Wills are translated; the early English Wills are frequently printed in a modern garb; the accompanying Inventories are seldom if ever noticed; and neither their Editor nor Mr. Surtees, nor any other county historian, has even attempted to make the Wills and Inventories of the middle and lower ranks contribute their share of information to the general stock of historical and social knowledge.

The Council of the Surtees Society have been careful to keep all these matters in view. They have attended to every minute characteristic of time and rank, of language and statistics, of religious feeling and domestic economy; and if they have only brought the present volume down to the year 1580, it is because the matter to which they have access, intervening between that year and the period of the Restoration, is of such great importance, as, in their opinion, to demand a volume even of a larger size than the present. On this subject the Council refer to the Report for the present year; and, in the mean time, they announce that communications from Members of the Society, or others, illustrative of the history, public or private, of the philology, statistics, &c. &c., of the present volume, will be gladly received by the Secretary.

The above and the succeeding notices of the splendid robes, plate, &c., which the Monks of Durham obtained upon the death of each of its early Bishops, are, strictly speaking, neither Wills nor Inventories, but Mortuaries. They come, however, fully within our plan, and throw great light upon the clerical dress, church furniture, &c., &c., of their respective periods.

[1] Robert de Stichill, Prior of Finchale, elected Bishop of Durham in 1260; died at Arbipellis, in France, on his way home from a General Council at Lyons, in 1274. His heart was brought to Durham, and buried in the Chapter House. A very minute account of the travelling expenses of this prelate, at every resting place in his journey to and from London, in consequence of his election, is preserved, and, as may be imagined, abounds with interest.

[2] Robert de Insula, or Holy Island, Prior of Finchale, elected Bishop of Durham in 1274; died at Bishop Middleham 9th June, 1283, and was buried in the Chapter House.

[1] John Fitz Marmaduke, Lord of Horden, in the parish of Easington, descended from a nephew of Bishop Flambard, and the "tres cher Bachelier" of Bishop Beck. Fitz Marmaduke, at the time of his death, was governor of St. John's Town [Perth,] in Scotland, under Edward II., and, according to a custom then not uncommon, his attendants, finding it impossible to comply with that clause in his will which enjoined his sepulture at Durham, literally boiled his dead body in a large cauldron, and preserved his bones till an opportunity of burying them in the Cathedral-yard of Durham presented itself. The whole of this strange proceeding is given in the following singular record enjoining, a penance upon the agents in the transaction, and now for the first time printed.

PRO SEPULTURA DOMINI JOHANNIS MARMADUK. Reg. KELLAWE, 224-b.

Sicut nobis fuit expositum, quondam Johannes dictus Marmeduk miles, vestræ dioceseos, in obsequiis illustris Principis Regis Angliæ ad custodiam villæ Sancti Johannis in Scociâ extiterat deputatus, corporeâ infirmitate gravatus suum condidit ultimum testamentum ac — corpus suum in cimiterio Dunolmensis Ecclesiæ tumulari precepit. Eo autem — exspirante ibidem, Executores — ac nonnulli familiares ipsius nobilis, cupientes ut — corpus ejus in dicto sepeliretur cimiterio, considerantes corpus — ibidem propter loci distanciam et hostium periculosas insidias integrum posse minimè deportari, corpus — frustatim concidentes illud aquis immerserunt ignibus dequoquendum, ac carnis tegumento excusso ab ossibus ossa ipsa hucusque retinuerunt ibidem — non sepulta, ignorantes penitus constitutionis editæ contra tales. Cumque postmodum iidem executores et familiares Peritorum assercione sui excessûs noticiam apprehenderunt, supplicari fecerunt humiliter —— nos igitur volens pœnitentibus pœnitenciam non negare — auctoritate domini Papæ cujus pœnitentiariæ curam gerimus, vestræ circumspectioni committimus quatenus eosdem executores et familiares — ab eadem sententiâ absolvatis, et injungatis — pœnitentiam salutarem — ac ossa predicti defuncti faciatis in dicto Dunelm. Ecclesiæ cimiterio — debite tumulari, ipsiusque animam fidelium suffragiis adjuvari. Data Viennæ v Id. Decembr. Pontif. Clementis P. v^{ti}. Anno Septimo.

The Executors were Sir Henry Fitzhugh and Sir Thomas de Wytheworth, Knights. Of the above inventory the greater part has been printed by Mr. Surtees, Vol. II., p. 381; but in a contracted, and therefore to the general reader an almost unintelligible form. As it has been deemed indispensable in a collection of this nature, the whole is now given free from contractions. The information which it affords relative to the armour and the domestic economy of the period, the prices of cattle, grain, &c. &c., is most authentic and valuable.

Richard fitz Marmaduke, the son of the above John, was Seneseal to Bishop Beaumont, and was murdered upon Framwellgate Bridge, by Robert Neville, of Raby, in 1318.

Item pro lumine circa corpus meum in die sepulturæ meæ c solidos. Item do et lego Isabellæ uxori meæ quinque discas argenti et unum calicem argenti. Item do et lego Domino Petro Vicario de Edlyngeham xx^{s}. Item do et lego totum residuum bonorum meorum mobilium et immobilium et omnia michi debita per quoscunque, Domino Willielmo filio meo, debitis meis plenariè solutis. Et ad hæc fideliter exequenda et adimplenda hos executores meos ordino facio et constituo, predictum Dominum Willielmum de Felton filium meum et heredem, Isabellam uxorem meam et predictum Dominum Petrum Vicarium Ecclesiæ de Edlyngham. Hiis Testibus Willielmo Clerk, Willielmo Zole ac Willielmo de Crokisdon et aliis.

XXVII. TESTAMENTUM JOHANNIS DE COUPLAND.[2]

[Reg. HATFIELD, .]

In nomine Summæ et Individuæ Trinitatis, Patris Filii et Spiritus Sancti, Amen. Ego Johannes de Coupland, de mandato Domini nostri Regis Angliæ jam ad partes longinquas

[1] Sir Wm. de Felton was possessed of large estates in Northumberland, and was much employed by King Edward III. in the military services of the Borders. In 1333 and 1335 he was commanded to array the men of North Tynedale. In 1336 he occurs as Constable of Roxburgh Castle and Sheriff of that county, offices which he held for some time afterwards. In 1343, a pension of £20 per annum for his services was granted to him and his heirs, to be paid out of the Customs of Newcastle. His name occurs in the Scotch Rolls for the last time, 15th May, 1347, when he was constituted Justiciary of those parts of Scotland in the possession of England. Whilst Constable of Roxburgh, he expended £2,386 12s. 4d. of the public money in the repairs of the Castle. Hatf. f. 151.

[2] The identical person who took David, King of Scotland, prisoner at the battle of Neville's Cross. "Iste Cowpland (says a marginal note opposite to the will, in the hand-writing of Roger Dodsworth,) tooke the King of Skotts nyghe Durham." Coupland did not, as has been stated, here first emerge from obscurity. He was by birth a man of rank and property. In 1339, seven years iturus, tempus reditûs mei ad partes istas penitus ignorando, et quicquid ante regressum meum michi evenire contigerit, de bonis meis ordino, et testamentum meum nuncupatorium condo in hunc modum. In primis lego animam meam Deo omnipo-before the battle of Neville's Cross, his services upon the Borders had obtained for him a pension of £20 per annum, out of the manor of Edrington, in Berwickshire. Twice in 1343 and again in 1344, he was a Commissioner of Truce or Array: but greater rewards and honours awaited him. Ridpath states, without giving his authority, that, for his services upon the field of Durham, he received a pension of £500 per annum. The Rotuli Scotiæ, after this period, make frequent mention of his name, first as Constable of Roxburgh Castle and Sheriff of the Shire, next as "Custos" of Berwick upon Tweed, and then as Constable and Sheriff of Roxburgh again. In 1353, he held, among his other offices, the Shrievalty of Northumberland, and in that capacity, by a singular coincidence, received at Newcastle David, King of Scotland, on his road home, after a captivity of seven long years. He died before 26th Jan., 1364. The preamble to his will alludes to some distant expedition which he was upon the point of undertaking, and it would appear that the time allowed him for making the necessary preparation was extremely limited, as he merely makes a nuncupative disposition of his effects. The Rotuli Scotiæ, however, make frequent mention of him at this very period as stationed at Berwick, and they record no command to him to quit his official duties. At all events, he died at home, and was buried in the church of Carham, from whence, by licence of Bishop Hatfield, at the petition of Joan, his widow, his body was removed for final sepulture to the Priory of Kirkham, in Yorkshire. To the information which we already possess, relative to the battle of Neville's Cross, may be here added, with propriety, the following original letter written by the Prior to the Bishop of Durham, a few days after the conflict, and hitherto unpublished. The etymological reader will smile when he is told by the Prior that Fyndon Hill, at which the battle terminated, had been originally so called in anticipation of this very event. Fyndonne—Fyn donnè—Finis datus—for the writer is armed both with French and Latin in proof of his point:—

LITERA DIRECTA EPISCOPO DE CONFLICTU AD NEVILE CROYS.

Reverende——Licet à personis quampluribus super his, quæ gesta sunt per crudelem gentem Scottorum in partibus Angliæ, paternitati vestræ, Reverende, diversas literas dirigi supponamus, cupientes tamen ad augmentum gaudii prout nos conceperimus præmissa fieri vestrum animum recreare, ad vestræ dominacionis audienciam deducimus per presentes. Scoti igitur supradicti, paulo post festum Sancti Michaelis Archangeli, in summâ elacione constituti cum eâ multitudine armatorum et peditum cui, sicut postmodum audivimus a quibusdam de eisdem, totam gentem tam Franciæ quam Angliæ non credebant posse restitisse, et si vires suas unanimiter conflavisset, partes Angliæ invadentes eas incendiis et feralibus gladiis circumquaque, per quas fecerunt transitum, crudeliter devastarunt, vix parcentes sexui aut ætati, et inter mala hujusmodi quæ atrociter committebant in Fortalicium de Lydel cujus custodiam habuit Dominus Willielmus de Selby ceperunt interfectis omnibus quotquot in eodem fuerunt inventi: postmodum vero, apud aliud Fortalitium, quod vocatur Haydenhall juxta Corbrig Scottis se transferentibus, illud reservatâ vitâ inhabitancium redditum fuit eis. Deinde vero, continuando dietas, die tali Octobris venerunt circa horam quasi nonam prope villam Dunolm. super moram de Bello Redditu, ostendentes se per dispositas acies quasi parati unanimiter ad pugnandum. Sed statim, sine plure, se ad manerium nostrum de Bello Redditu convertebant, per noctem illam totam infra parcum, nullo eorum extra remanente sicut sub certitudine habuimus, pernoctarunt; Venerabili Patre Domino Archiepiscopo Eboraci et tenti et omnibus sanctis ejus, et corpus meum ad sepeliendum ubi permissione divinâ contigerit ordinari. Item do et lego omnia bona mea mobilia et immobilia ubicunque fuerint inventa Johannæ uxori meæ et Rogero Corbet, ut ipsi conjunctim et divisim inde ordinent et disponant prout secundum Deum animæ meæ saluti melius viderint expedire. Volo insuper et concedo quod ipsi quibuscunque creditoribus meis et aliis quibus obligatus sum, de bonis prædictis congruè satisfaciant, ut tenentur; et debita mea quæcunque prosequantur exigant atque levent, prout secundum Deum et justitiam melius videbitur expedire. Hujus autem testamenti mei prædictos Johannam et Rogerum conjunctim et divisim, ut præmittitur, ordino, facio et constituo executores. Actum infra Castrum de Werk Dunolmensis dioceseos IX. die mensis Octobris Anno Domini Millesimo CCC. quinquagesimo nono, in presentia dictorum Johannæ et Rogeri ac Roberti Atte Milne de Werk, Johannis de Clyderhowe et Rogeri Clerc, testium ad præmissa specialiter vocatorum.

aliis Magnatibus qui cum eo fuerant, de quorum nominibus, per alios pleniùs quam per nos, vos credimus certiorari debere, infra parcum vestrum de Aukeland eadem nocte se collocantibu occultè. Porro, in crastino die, videlicet XVIJ Octobris, nostratibus usque Moram de Bello Redditu, de quo premittitur, declinantibus, Scotti hoc audientes, se super eandem Moram juxta parcum nostrum ad pugnandum, aciebus dispositis, paraverunt: unde ab horâ quasi terciâ usque ad horam nonam remanserunt partes, vexillis erectis, inter Civitatem Dunelm. et manerium predictum de Bello Redditu, modico existente spacio inter eas, quâ quidem horâ, ad incrementum gaudii Ecclesiæ Anglicanæ populi, eædem partes utrobique durè acerbè et validè acriter conflixerunt. Sed, benedictus Altissimus in cujus manu sunt corda Regum, ac, prout si placet vulnerat et medetur, dejicit et exaltat, Scottos Anglici cum triumpho mirifico superârunt, incolis partium borialium, quos diu Scotti oppresserant, ad optatæ libertatis guadia restitutis. In quo quidem conflictu David se dicens Regem Scociæ captus est, cum sagittâ in facie graviter vulneratus: multis vero de valentioribus totius terræ Scociæ interfectis et jacentibus super moram de Bello Redditu miserabiliter denudatis, quorum personas et numerum certitudinaliter vobis nescimus exprimere; quos tamen per alios satis habebitis expressos. Multi vero capti sunt, quorum unus, non tamen valentior sed reverâ malivolentior est, Willielmus Douglas; cujus et aliorum nomina vobis in cedulâ inclusâ presentibus destinamus. Pauci de nostris in dicto mortui sunt conflictu. Locus ille in quo bellum de quo superiùs fit mentio est commissum, inter civitatem Dunolmensem et quendam monticollum qui vocatur Fyndonne noscitur situari; qui quidem monticulus a quodam presagio sumpsisse nomen creditur, cum posse dicatur verisimiliter Fyndonne quasi finem dans, vel finem dandus. Nomen enim ut tenet communis opinio, discidio miserabili quod per multa annorum curricula inter Anglos et Scottos invaluit, Ipsius cooperante potentiâ quæ nullis est inclusa limitibus, conjicitur finis dari. Brit. Mus. FAUSTINA A. 6. f. 47.

XXXVIII. TESTAMENTUM MAGISTRI THOMÆ WESTON.[1]

[Reg. LANGLEY, fol. 27. b.]

In Dei nomine Amen. Per præsens publicum instrumentum cunctis appareat evidenter, quod, anno ab incarnacione Domini, secundum cursum et computacionem Ecclesiæ Anglicanæ M.CCCC. septimo, Indiccione primâ, Pontificatûs sanctissimi in Christo Patris et domini nostri domini Gregorii divinâ providentiâ papæ, duodecimi, anno primo, mensis Octobris die ix, in ecclesiâ Cantuariensi, in mei notarii publici et testium subscriptorum presentiâ constitutus personaliter honorabilis vir magister Thomas de Weston Archidiaconus Dunolmensis, quandam cedulam papiream, testamentum suum ut asserit continentem, in manibus suis tenens, ac palam exhibens, mihi jam dicto notario coram testibus subscriptis realiter tradidit et assignavit, rogando me notarium prefatum sibi super hoc publicum conficere instrumentum. Tenor vero dictæ cedulæ papiriæ sequitur, et est talis. In Dei nomine Amen. Ego Thomas de Weston, Archidiaconus Dunelm. sanus mente et corpore, considerans vitam humanam variis et inopinatis subjectam periculis, volensque horam mortis, quâ nichil incercius, diligenti prudenciâ salubriter prævenire, et de bonis fortunæ michi divinæ pietatis habundantiâ concessis, prout Deus michi gratiam dederit, piè disponere et salubriter ordinare, testamentum meum condo et facio in hunc modum. In primis do et lego animam meam Deo omnipotenti, qui eam creare et suo precioso sanguine redimere dignatus est; corpusque meum sepeliendum in aliquâ ecclesiarum in quibus nunc beneficiatus existo, quam executores mei infrascripti ad hoc duxerint eligendam, si et quatenus infra regnum Angliæ me mori contigerit; alioquin ipsam sepulturam meam disposicioni divinæ pietatis recommendo. Item do et lego omnes pannos et vestes ordinatos pro corpore meo consanguineis meis distribuendos, secundum discrecionem eorundum executorum meorum, prout ipsorum consanguineorum meorum status et indigencia exigerint. Item do et lego Ricardo servienti et camerario meo viginti libras: Thomæ Dalton decem marcas: Johanni Barbour centum solidos; et viginti marcas distribuendas secundum quod executoribus meis expedienciùs videbitur, inter eos qui michi serviunt et temporibus præteritis servierunt. Item volo quod omnes et singuli feoffati in manerio de Osgodby juxta Selby statum suum relaxent, et relaxaciones faciant Johanni Strech scutifero meo, ut dictum manerium cum pertinentiis sibi heredibus et assignatis suis remaneat inperpetuum. Ita tamen quod dictus Johannes Strech solvat infra triennium ducentas marcas aliis executoribus meis, per eos exponendas in complecionem istius ultimæ voluntatis meæ, si opus fuerit, seu in alios usus secundum disposicionem eorundem Executorum meorum. Item do et lego magistro Johanni Weston fratri meo unum ciphum argenteum deauratum exterius et album interius, qui quondam fuit domini Walteri Episcopi Dunelm. Item Hostien' in Lucam in duobus voluminibus et viginti libras sterlingorum. Item lego cuilibet executorum meorum inferius nominatorum, qui onus execucionis hujus admiserit, unum ciphum argenteum deauratum coopertum, et decem libras sterlingorum, exceptis hiis quibus specialiter aliquod legavi. Item lego Reverendo patri Domino Episcopo

[1] Archdeacon of Durham and Rector of Easington,—Prebendary of York and Howdon—Rector of Sedgefield and Master of Gretham Hospital.—Resigned the Archdeaconry of Durham and Rectory of Easington 15th Feb., 1408.

Dunelm. duo candelabra argentea deaurata. Item volo quod tercia pars residui omnium bonorum meorum distribuatur inter Hospitale de Gretham et ecclesias de Esyngton, Seggefeld et de Houeden, prout executores prædicti, consideratâ ipsius hospitalis et cujusdam ecclesiæ indigencia, decreverint: et quod reliquæ duæ partes per dictos executores meos expendantur et administrentur in satisfaccione fiendâ creditoribus, si quæ per me debita veraciter probari poterunt; nec non in restitucionibus fiendis conquerentibus de injuriis et offensis de quibus veraciter constare poterit; et in alios pios usus, secundum quod executoribus prædictis pro salute animæ meæ sanius et consulcius videbitur faciendum. Hujus autem testamenti mei executores facio ordino et constituo honorabiles viros magistrum Alanum de Newerk, Johannem de Weston fratrum meum, Johannem Strech domicellum, et dominum Willielmum Ingelby. Et supervisorem administracionis fiendæ per eosdem ordino et facio Reverendissimum in Christo patrem et dominum meum dominum Thomam dei gratiâ Episcopum Dunelm., paternitati suæ humiliter supplicans quatinus intuitu obsequiorum meorum, seu saltem voluntatis meæ sibi obsequendæ, dignetur onus supervisionis hujusmodi in se assumere, et executoribus prædictis in administracione hujusmodi efficaciter impendere auctoritatem, auxilium, consilium, et favorem. In cujus —— Testibus honorabili viro Magistro Alexandro Bagenham bacallario in decretis, et Roberto de hoton Wellen. et Ebor. dioces.——[Prob. coram Episcopi apud Derlyngton xx Sep. 1408.]

XXXIX. TESTAMENTUM ROBERTI OGILL MILITIS.[1]

[Reg. LANGLEY, fol. 33.]

Testamentum Domini Roberti Ogill senioris, vij die Februarii Anno Domini Millesimo cccc decimo. In primis animam meam peccatricem, quanto devocius possum, commendo —— et eligo corpori meo sepulturam infra Ecclesiam parochialem de Whalton, videlicet in porticu Beatæ Mariæ, quem volo ut plumbo cooperiatur meis sumptibus et expensis. Item do et lego Rectori ejusdem Ecclesiæ pro decimis meis oblitis xl^{s}. Volo eciam quod duo honesti et idonei capellani per xij annos ibidem pro

Item do et lego cuilibet ordini Fratrum mendicantium in Novo Castro super Tynam xx^{s}. seu ad valorem, secundum disposicionem executorum meorum. Item volo quod Thomas Blenkensoppe et Robertus Rauchestre sufficientes eorum corporibus, ut, decet, habeant armaturas, et duos colt', et hoc per visum executorum meorum. Item do et lego Willielmo Karre omnia terras et tenementa mea in villâ de Heton juxta Novum Castrum super Tynam ad terminum vitæ suæ. Item do et lego Willielmo Scryvane omnia terras et tenementa mea quæ habeo in Folbery ad totam vitam suam. Item do et lego Domino Johanni Claveryng duas equas cum suis sequelis. Item do et lego Roberto Ogill filio meo unum equum, anglicè vocatum Gray geldyng, et duas equas cum suis sequelis. Item do et lego Johanni Barthram[1] unum gladium et duas equas cum suis sequelis. Item do et lego Johanni Blenckensoppe duas equas cum suis sequelis. Item do et lego Alexandro Heron duas equas cum suis sequelis. Item do et lego Roberto Raymus duas equas cum suis sequelis. Item do et lego Thomæ Hibburn filio Roberti Hibburn de Novo Castro duas equas cum suis sequelis: et volo distribuantur per Johannam uxorem meam. Item lego diversis pontibus infra Northumbriam, et præcipuè infra dominium meum, fractis et emendandis, c solidos per visum Executorum meorum solvendos. Item volo quod nulli revenient' de pœnis et amerciamentis arriarum mearum leventur, sed in locis omnibus plenariè perdonentur. Volo eciam quod omnia debita mea de revenientibus terrarum Willielmi Heron infra ætatem ac in meâ custodiâ existentis plenariè persolvantur, quousque ad plenam ætatem pervenerit. Item do et lego cuilibet executori meo unum colt et xl^{s} pro eorum laboribus, ita quod nichil de bonis meis eis appropriant. Item do et lego residuum omnium bonorum meorum non legatorum debitis meis plenè solutis, factisque funeralibus expensis, ad maritandum seu ad matrimonia supportanda filiabus tam filiorum quam filiarum mearum secundum ordinacionem et

XLI. TESTAMENTUM MAGISTRI ALANI DE NEWARK.[1]

In nomine Domini nostri Jh'u Christi, Amen; Ego Alanus de Newerk Clericus, Eboracensis Dioceseos, intuens quod in hâc lacrimarum valle manentem non habeo civitatem, sed aliam inquiro, utinam de immensâ bonitate divinâ felicem, et cum cinis sim revertar in cinerem, sed quando, ubi, vel qualiter, divinæ duntaxat noticiæ reservatur; ut ergo transitoria michi bona collata in pauperum recreacionem, divini cultûs augmentum, meæque et aliarum animarum salutem, laudemque majestatis divinæ, cedere valeant in futurum, condo et ordino testamentum meum in hunc modum. Lego animam meam immensæ bonitati Divinæ, gloriosæque Virgini Mariæ matri Jh'u Christi, Sancto Johanni Evangelistæ ac omnibus Sanctis Dei, quorum intercessionibus eternam habere firmiter credo vitam, corpusque meum sepeliendum in ecclesiâ Cathedrali Eboraci juxta altare sancti Johannis Apostoli et Evangelistæ, magistri mei, situm in parte australi, vel alibi, si mortem extra provinciam Ebor. ingrediar, secundum disposicionem pro tempore contingentem. Item lego cuilibet executori meæ ultimæ voluntatis, per me inferiùs nominato, onus executionis actualiter recipienti, pro labore suo, quinque libras argenti; et si unus majorem laborem reportaverit, juxta aliorum executorum arbitrium retribuatur sibi. Item lego omnia alia bona mea distribuenda magis pauperibus et egenis in 1 Master of Sherburne Hospital 3rd Jan., 1403: resigned in 1409—Archdeacon of Durham February 1408, upon the resignation of Thomas de Weston —resigned in the same month—an executor of the will of Bishop Skirlaw, and in that capacity superintended the finishing of the Cloister of Durham Cathedral, which had been begun by that prelate, and for the completion of which he had made a provision. From the year 1380 to 1405 Newark was included in almost every commission on the affairs of the Borders. His various preferments at the time of his death, may be gathered from his will. He was an advocate in the Consistory Court of York, and there he died in 1412, and was buried in the Cross Aisle of the Cathedral. The inscription upon his gravestone is given by Drake in his Eboracum. His arms were argent, three saltires engrailed sable. This shield occurs among the armorial bearings in the Cloister of Durham Abbey.

Civitate Eboraci, et locis aliis, et in alios pios usus, ad laudem Dei, et pro meâ et aliorum quibus astrictus sum animabus, secundum formam et exigenciam aliorum codicillorum meorum per me in posterum faciendorum, quos hic confirmo, saltem si codicillos me conficere contigerit in futurum. Ad hujus verò ultimæ meæ voluntatis execucionem debitè faciendam ordino et constituo executores dominum Johannem Munkgate, personam in Ecclesiæ Ebor. cujus arbitrio, in bonis distribuendis et regendis, alios executores parere volo et statuo; ac Magistrum Willielmum de Newerk nepotem meum rectorem Ecclesiæ de Slaytburn; dominum Robertum Appilton Vicarium Ecclesiæ Ebor. et domium Spanyell capellanum, ac Willielmum Leventon clericum meum. Data in aulâ habitacionis meæ Eboraci decimo octavo mensis Aprilis Anno MCCCC undecimo.

In nomine Domini nostri Jh'u Christi, sub cujus misericordiâ vivo, et migrabo ab hoc seculo nequam, codicillos subscriptos condo et facio, addoque per me testamento prius facto. In primis volo ut x^{l}. distribuantur inter pauperes parochianos ecclesiæ de Mekesburgh pro animâ bonæ memoriæ Domini Francisci quondam Cardinalis Romanæ Ecclesiæ et Archidiaconi Eboraci, si per me prius non fuerint distributæ. Et inter pauperes et egenos parochianos ecclesiæ collegiatæ de Derlyngton ubi prebendam habeo x^{l}. Et inter incolas villæ de Essh, quæ est corpus prebendæ quam habeo in Ecclesiâ de Langchestre, x^{l}. Et inter egenos et pauperes villæ de Naptnwych ubi Hospitale habeo x marcæ distribuantur pro animabus fundatorum prebendæ et Hospitalis prædictorum. Item volo ut die exequiarum mearum xx marcæ pauperibus distribuantur. Item Petro Gell, Johanni Escryk, et Laurencio Stafforde, lego vj libras per equales portiones eis dividendas. Item volo quòd ordinetur ut unus capellanus celebret in Ecclesiâ Ebor. ad altare Sancti Johannis Evangelistæ pro animâ Thomæ fratris mei et animabus parentum meorum et omnium eorum quibus tenentur, et animâ meâ, per xx annos proximè sequentes mortem meam, et habeat quolibet anno c^{s}.; ad quod onus supportandum, sub caucione congruâ, deponantur c^{l}. penes Capitulum Ebor.; quæ summa, si Capitulo placitum fuerit, potest exponi circa fabricam Ecclesiæ: et obligetur Capitulum congruo modo ad solvendum c^{s}. dicto capellano et successoribus suis annuatim per viginti annos; quod onus non excedet summam prædictam: et si Capitulum hoc renuerit, Abbas et Conventus Ebor. vel Prior et Conventus de Gysburgh assument onus hujusmodi, et præficiatur capellanus per magistrum Johennem Munkgate et per Magistrum Willielmum de Newerk, dum vixerint, vel eorum alterum diuciùs viventem, et post obitum, per Capitulum Ebor.: et fiat securitas de dictâ summâ annuatim solvendâ per tempus prædictum juxta peritioris avisamentum in jure regio; et istud factum eget magnâ prudenciâ, quam extendere tediosum foret; extendam tamen in alio pergameno si Deus tempus dederit et gratiam. Et volo ut dominus Johannes Spanyell sit capellanus prædictus, si voluerit, cum onere et commodo supradictis; et tempore infirmitatis, non fictæ, percipiet salarium suum sicut aliis temporibus; et si non poterit in præmissis haberi securitas congrua, quia religiosi reddunt se difficiles in solucionibus suis, et grave foret capellano hujusmodi sustinere lites, vel deponatur summa solida in cistâ sub tribus clavibus servanda per dictos magistrum Johannem et Willielmum Executores meos, dum vixerint, et, post eorum obitum, per alias personas quas ipsi nominaverint; et inde annuatim sumatur salarium solvendum capellano prædicto: Et si hæc via non poterit esse firma, conducantur tot capellani ut duobus, tribus, quatuor, vel quinque annis, dispensari dicta summa valeat inter eos, cum onere supradicto hujusmodi tempore exequendo. Item volo habere obitum in Ecclesiâ Ebor. oneris xxx^{s}., vel circiter, per viginti annos; et quod summa xxx^{l}. deponatur, vel cum eâ fiat sicut cum aliâ summâ supradictâ. Item lego conventui Monasterii Beatæ Mariæ Ebor. unum ciphum deauratum, habentem formam calicis coopertum, in cujus summitate ymago Leonis fixa est, et habet basas de Leonibus; et volo quod venerabilis pater Thomas Abbas modernus habeat usum ciphi pro tempore vitæ suæ, et postea remaneat Conventui. Item lego Willielmo cognato meo unum ciphum argenti coopertum ponsatum in fundo et in cooperculo. Item lego quatuor Conventibus fratrum mendicancium Eboraci iiij^{l}. inter eos equaliter dividendas. Item lego fratri Ricardo Sawage ministro domûs sancti Roberti juxta Knaresburugh xiij^{s}. iiij^{d}. et cuilibet confratri suo sacerdoti in eâdem domo iij^{s}. iiij^{d}. et cuilibet alteri fratri non sacerdoti ejusdem domûs xx^{d}.; et ad pittanciam inter eos faciendam tempore exequiarum mearum vj^{s}. viij^{d}.; ut orent pro me ad Deum et exequias faciant juxta ritum ecclesiæ. Item lego cuilibet monacho Prioratûs sancti Johannis Evangelistæ Pontisfracti iij^{s}. iiij^{d}., et x^{s}. ad pittanciam inter eos faciendam die exequiarum mearum, ut orent pro me ad Deum et exequias faciant juxta ritum ecclesiæ. Item volo ut illæ personæ quibus in Inventario meo designo res aliquas per scriptu-ram manûs meæ propriæ, quæ satis nota est clericis meis, illas res habeant in formâ legati. Item volo ut presentor quilibet canonicus vj^{s}. viij^{d}. et personarum ac vicariorum ecclesiæ Ebor. et duorum clericorum in vestiario quilibet xx^{d}. et quilibet diaconus xij^{d}. et aliorum minorum ministrorum in choro dictæ ecclesiæ quilibet viij^{d}., personaliter interessentes in exequiis meis, et quilibet trium sacristarum Ecclesiæ xij^{d}. præter feoda sua consueta habeant; ut orent pro me ad Deum. Item volo ut residuum bonorum meorum pauperibus et egenis, non fictis, et in alios pios usus, pro animâ Thomæ fratris mei et meâ et animabus parentum meorum et omnium eorum quibus sumus obligati, ac omnium fidelium defunctorum, fideliter et discretè distribuantur, et in hiis stetur consilio et arbitrio domini Johannis Munkgate personæ in Ecclesiâ Ebor.; in cujus conscientiæ puritate spem habeo; et ultra legata sibi in testamento lego sibi xl^{s}. In cujus rei testimonium præsentibus sigillum meum apposui. Dat' in domo habitacionis meæ infra clausum Ecclesiæ Ebor. anno domini Millesimo cccc undecimo, vicesimo quinto die mensis Maii. XLVII. TESTAMENTUM DOMINI JOHANNIS LUMLEY MILITIS.[1]

In Dei nomine, Amen. Ego Johannes de Lumley, miles, in bonâ memoriâ xxiiij die Aprilis, Anno Domini Millesimo ccccxviij., condo testamentum meum in hunc modum. In primis lego animam meam Deo Omnipotenti, beatæ Mariæ, et Omnibus Sanctis, et corpus meum ad sepeliendum in ecclesiâ

1 Sir John Lumley, of Lumley Castle, Knight, son and heir of Sir Ralph Lumley, who died in battle at Cirencester against Henry IV., by Eleanor, daughter of John Lord Neville, of Raby, sister of Ralph, first Earl of Westmorland. Sir John Lumley was slain at Baugy, in Anjou, on Easter Eve, 1421, fighting under the banners of the Duke of Clarence, and was buried, not at Chester-le-Street, as his will enjoins, but in the Cathedral-yard at Durham, near the north door, from whence his bones and monument were removed to Chester-le-Street, by John, Lord Lumley, in 1594.

Item lego Alianoræ, filiæ meæ, ccc marcas, ad maritagium suum. Item lego Matildæ, filiæ meæ, ccc marcas ad maritagium suum. Item lego Annæ, filiæ meæ,[3] ccc marcas ad maritagium suum; habendas prædictas summas quando prædictæ filiæ meæ ad ætatem xviij annorum pervenerint, aut si per amicos meos ante talem ætatem maritentur. Et volo quod prædictæ filiæ meæ sint in custodiâ et potestate executorum meorum, usque ad prædictam ætatem; nisi, medio tempore, maritentur ad costagium dictorum executorum meorum de bonis meis inveniendum. Item lego Agneti filiæ Agnetis Cuthbert xl libras ad maritagium suum, eidem solvendas, cum ad eandem ætatem pervenerit; et quod, medio tempore, sit in custodiâ [etc in formâ predictâ]. Item volo quod Executores mei inveniant de bonis meis Johannem filium prædictæ Agnetis Cuthbert usque ad ætatem xxj annorum. Item volo quod Feoffati mei in Hospitio meo de Wodestret in London vendant dictum Hospitium ad acquittandum debita mea, et ad disponendum pro animâ meâ. Item lego Elizabethæ sorori meæ,[4] centum marcas ad maritagium suum. Item lego Katerinæ sorori meæ[5] c marcas ad maritagium suum. Item lego Matildæ filiæ meæ totum le Perell quod fuit matris suæ. Item lego Annæ filiæ meæ unam togam de panno aureo, quæ fuit matris suæ. Item volo quod Executores mei faciant vestimentum de duobus togis de blodio velvet, et quod donetur per Executores meos prædictæ Ecclesiæ de Chestre, ad orandum pro animâ meâ, et animâ dictæ Feliciæ uxoris meæ, et

1 Felicia, daughter of Sir Matthew Redmayne, of Newcastle, of whom Froissart tells a romantic story in his narrative of the Battle of Otterburne.

2 There is a little village called Rotsea, on the coast of Yorkshire, but it is at some distance from the sea.

3 These three daughters are not noticed in the printed pedigrees of Lumley.

4 Afterwards wife of Adam Tirwhitt, of Kettleby, Co. Linc., Esq.

5 Afterwards married to Sir John Chideok, Knt.

antecessorum meorum. Item lego Ricardo Bukley Clerico[1] unum ciphum deauratum et x marcas argenti. Item lego Ricardo de Urpath capellano unum ciphum argenti et decem marcas. Residuum vero omnium bonorum meorum non legatorum do et lego Executoribus meis, ut debita mea acquietent, et pro salute animæ meæ disponant, prout videbitur Deo placere, et saluti animæ meæ proficere. Hujus autem testamenti mei facio, ordino, et constituo prædictum Ricardum de Bukley, Ricardum de Urpath, et prædictum Willielmum Mayhu Executores meos, ac insuper Elizabetham[2] uxorem Domini Johannis de Nevyll supervisorem ejusdem Testamenti. Datum die et anno supradictis. Item volo quod Executores mei inveniant duos homines ad eundum peregrè pro me et dictâ Feliciâ versus Cantuariam, sumptibus meis. Item volo quod Executores mei, quolibet anno solvant Fratri Thomæ Oxenden, durante vitâ suâ, xl^{s}. Item volo, quod si prædictus Thomas faciat leJubile[3] quod ipsi ei tunc solvant c^{s}. Item volo quod annuatim, quamdiu aliquis Executorum eorum vivit, quod ipsi vel ipse inveniant vel inveniat unum Capellanum in Ecclesiâ Beatæ Mariæ de Chestre, pro animâ meâ. Item lego Thomæ Blakburn xl^{s}. Item lego Thomæ Newsom xl^{s}. Item lego Thomæ filio meo[4] unum ciphum deauratum, quod Dominus meus Episcopus Dunelm. sibi dedit. Item lego Dominæ meæ Elizabethæ Nevill xx marcas argenti, unum ciphum argenti deauratum, unum fetherbed, xxiiij pilowes. Item lego Johanni Bertram x marcas.

Codicillum.[5] Be it knowen till all men yat yis is ye last wille of me sir Johan of Lumley Knyght I wylle yat my testa-

1 According to Mr Surtees, Dean of Chester-le-Street. At all events he was Master of Kepier Hospital in 1437.

2 Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Holland, Earl of Kent, and wife of Sir John Neville, son and heir apparent of Ralph, first Earl of Westmorland, married by the Prior of Durham, at Brancepeth, by special license from Bishop Skirlaw, 29th August, 1394. A subsequent bequest, in which the testator calls the Lady Elizabeth domina mea, proves that he had been, in his youth, trained up within the halls of Raby. Sir John Neville died before his father in 1423 or 4.

3 There was at this period celebrated at Canterbury, in every fiftieth year, a Jubilee in honour of Thomas à Becket. The first in order of time after the date of the will, was to take place in 1420, and thither the testator wishes to tempt Friar Oxenden by an additional legacy of 100^{s}.

4 Afterwards Sir Thomas Lumley, Knight, Governor of Scarborough Castle, &c.—died in 1485.

5 Mr. Surtees remarks of this codicil, [II. 157] that it bears every mark of being, both in substance and expression, the genuine composition of the testator. It may be added, that it affords an excellent specimen of the strength and vigour of the English language at that period. It bears date at Melun-upon-Seine, on the 19th August, 1420, a city which the English had beseiged from the 30th of July preceding, and which was not surrendered to them till the middle of November.

Hiis testibus Roberto Mennell, Johanne Vesy, Roberto de Harwod capellano, Roberto Tod, Roberto Warmere et aliis. Datum apud Stretlame hall die et anno supradictis.

[1] The word filiola seems to imply a god-daughter. The term is applied to five children, who are called after the testatrix.

[2] Mr Surtees, when noticing this bequest, [I. II. 5] asks, "Did a Romance ever actually exist under this strange title? or had the Lady of Dalden met with one of Wycliffe's Bibles, and conceived the Gospels to be a series of fabulous adventures?" Perhaps nothing more is meant than the Gospels in English, of Wycliffe's translation.

[3] Here is a romance in earnest, the Sir Tristrem of Thomas the Rhymer, which was edited, in 1804, by Sir Walter Scott, from a MS. in the Advocates' Library.

[4] Thomas Holden was senescall under Bishop Langley, in 1422.

LI. TESTAMENTUM RADULPHI DE NEVILLE COMITIS DE WESTMORLAND,[1] ETC.

Universis Sanctæ Matris Ecclesiæ filiis præsentes Literas inspecturis, Domini Officialis Curiæ Eborum Commissarius Generalis, Salutem in Domino sempiternam. Noverit universitas vestra, quod inspectis Registris testamentorum in Scaccario Reverendissimi in Christo Patris et Domini, Domini Johannis Dei gratiâ Eboracensis Archiepiscopi, Angliæ Primatis et Apostolicæ Sedis Legati, probatorum, comperimus testamentum recolendæ memoriæ Domini Radulphi Nevill nuper Comitis

[1] Ralph Neville, Lord of Raby—Governor of Carlisle, and a Warden of the Marches, 1385—succeeded to his estates upon the death of his father, in 1388—Constable of the Tower of London, 1397—Earl of Westmorland in 1398—Lord of the Honor of Penrith for life—Earl of Richmond (for life), and Earl Marshal of England in 1399—Governor of Roxborough Castle, 1401—at the Siege of Caen, in Normandy, 1409—founded the Collegiate Church of Staindrop—married, first, Margaret, daughter of Hugh Earl of Stafford, who died 9th June, 1370, and was buried at Brancepath—secondly, Joan, daughter of John of Gaunt, Duke of Lancaster, widow of Sir Robert Ferrers, Knight, who survived him, and dying 13th Nov., 1440, was buried at Lincoln. The Earl of Westmorland himself died 21st Oct., 1425, and was buried at Staindrop, under the most splendid tomb of which the North of England can boast, but which has been removed from its original situation in the middle of the Choir, into an obscure and dirty corner behind the south door, where, in addition to other indignities, the heat of a stove, hard by, is rapidly pulverising the splendid alabaster work of one of its sides. Ought not such a tomb to have been most carefully preserved in its original situation, as one of the proudest memorials of the antient Lords of Raby? Who was the incumbent who consented to such a barbarous proceeding? Why did not the Ordinary interfere? There are elaborate engravings of this rich specimen of antient art in Gough's Sepulchral Monuments; in Surtees's History of Durham; and in Blore's Monumental Remains. Let the engraver perpetuate what may soon be a matter of history.

Westmorlandiæ defuncti, in dictis Registris registratum, eo, qui sequitur, sub tenore. In Dei nomine, Amen. Ego Radulphus de Nevill, Comes Westmerland', compos mentis et sanus corpore, condo ac facio testamentum meum in hunc modum. In primis do et lego animam Deo Omnipotenti, Beatæ Mariæ virgini et omnibus Sanctis; Corpusque meum ad sepeliendum infra Monasterium Conventuale S. Cuthberti Dunelmi, vel in Ecclesiâ Collegiatâ in Standropp. Item do et lego nomine Mortuarii mei, duos Equos cum apparatu secundum ordinacionem Executorum meorum, in die sepulturæ meæ, prout moris est. Item do et lego Johannæ uxori meæ, pro sustentacione suâ et liberorum nostrorum, terciam partem bonorum et rerum meorum mobilium, cum optimo cipho meo auri cum vj chargeours, xxiiij discis argenteis, et cum uno lecto de Arras operato cum auro, cum costeris eidem pertinentibus et concordantibus. Item do et lego prædictæ Johannæ uxori meæ centum vaccas, xxiiij Jumenta, mille oves, duas ollas argenteas deauratas, et iiij ollas argenteas albas. Item do et lego Richardo de Nevill[1]

[1] Richard Neville, married Alice, only daughter and heir of Thomas de Montacute, Earl of Salisbury—created Earl of Salisbury and Lord Monthermer—Father of the Earl of Warwick, "the King Maker"—taken prisoner at the Battle of Wakefield, fighting on the side of the Duke of York, in 1460, and beheaded at Pontefract.

We have pleasure in preserving four characteristic letters written by this ill-fated nobleman. The first, which will be read with great interest, must have been written soon after the 15th June, 1429, upon which day the Earl of Salisbury was appointed a Commissioner for the Borders. The postscript of this letter is in the Earl's own hand-writing, and the Prior would doubtless understand its meaning. The second and third are from France, the former in 1431, and the latter about the same period—the fourth, written after the Earl's return to his Castle of Middleham, refers to a dispute between Sir William Bowes and the Prior, relative to the estate of Osmondcroft, on the Tees.

LVI. TESTAMENTUM ROBERTI CONYERS DE SOCKBURN.[2]

[Reg. LANGLEY, fol. 130.]

In Dei nomine, Amen. xviij die mensis Aprilis, Anno Domini M.DCCCC. XXXJ, Ego Robertus Conyers de Sockburn, compos mentis meæ, condo testamentum meum in hunc modum.

[1] This will is, for the first time, accurately printed from the Probate in Bishop Langley's Register. It was first published by Bourne in his History of Newcastle, from whence it was copied by Hodgson; but the slightest comparison of Bourne's copy with the above will prove that he has attended merely to the substance of the record, and has totally disregarded the light which it throws upon the English language of its period.

[2] Robert Conyers, of Sockburne, Esq., son and heir of Sir John Conyers and Elizabeth, daughter and co-heir of William, second Baron de Aton, by Isabel, daughter of Henry Percy.

In primis, lego animam meam Deo omnipotenti Creatori meo, Beatæ Mariæ ejus Genetrici, et omnibus Sanctis; corpusque meum sepeliendum in Ecclesiâ Parochiali Omnium Sanctorum de Sokburn, cum mortuariis meis debitis et consuetis. Item lego in cerâ cremandâ circa corpus meum, in die sepulturæ meæ, iiij libras. Item lego summo altari iij^{s}. iiij^{d}. Item lego Ecclesiæ unam togam de serico pro vestimento faciendo. Item lego Fratribus Predicatoribus de Yarum x^{s}. Item Fratri Johanni Leeke ejusdem Domûs vj^{s}. viij^{d}. Item fratribus de Alverton vj^{s}. viij^{d}. Item Fratribus Augustini de Novo Castro vj^{s}. viij^{d}. Item Fratribus de (blank) vj^{s}. viij^{d}. Item lego Cristofero[1] filio meo unum annulum cum diamaunt; et unum cingulum de serico cum le harnez de argento; et unum (blank) cum baselard; et meum gladium; et unum pileum de stramine, cum uno ouche. Item lego Johannæ filiæ meæ[2] unam bursam optimam; et unum monile optimum ad modum cordis factum. Item Elizabethæ filiæ meæ unam bursam et unum monile secundum optimum. Item Isabellæ filiæ meæ[3] unam bursam cum meo annulo. Item Margaretæ filiæ meæ unam bursam et unum annulum. Item Katerinæ filiæ meæ unam bursam ut unum annulum. Item Ceciliæ filiæ meæ unam bursam et unum annulum. Item Beatrici filiæ meæ unam bursam et unum annulum. Item lego Johanni Laton unam bursam et unam par cirothecarum et unum annulum. Item Thomæ Clarvaux unam bursam, unum par cirothecarum et unum annulum. Item lego cuilibet Capellano existenti ad exequias xij^{d}. Item cuilibet Clerico viij^{d}. Item lego Ceciliæ et Beatrici filiabus meis utrique centum marcas pro suis maritagiis. Item volo quod omnia utensilia domûs meæ tam in Camerâ quam in Aulâ, Pincernâ, Panetriâ, Pistrino, una cum Plaustris et Carucis cum toto apparatu, ponantur in salvâ custodiâ per avisamentum et ordinationem Executorum meorum, quousque Cristoferus filius meus ad hereditatem perveniat; et tunc deliberentur præfato Cristofero ad usum suum proprium. Si autem mors eum præveniat antequam hereditatem possideat quod tunc distribuantur inter Sorores suas ad tunc superstites existentes. Residuum vero bonorum meorum do et lego Domino Nicholao Hulme Magistro de Gre-

[1] Afterwards Sir Christopher Conyers, of Sockburne, who died in 1487, having been married by special licence in the Private Chapel of Witton Castle by Thomas Hebbeden, Dean of Auckland, to Margery, daughter of Sir William Eure, of Witton Castle, by Maud, daughter of Henry Lord Fitzhugh.

[2] Johanna Conyers, afterwards wife of Sir Philip Dymoke, of Scrivelsby, Champion of England at the Coronation of King Henry VI.

[3] Afterwards, perhaps even then, wife of Thomas Clervaux, (a younger son of Sir John Clervaux, of Croft, Knt.,) to whom a legacy is left below, and who witnessed the execution of the will.

tham, Rogero Aske et Johanni Laton, quos etiam constituo et ordino meos fore Executores, dans et concedens eisdem meam potestatem, ita pro omnibus Bonis meis disponere, prout eis saluti animæ meæ melius videbitur expedire. Hiis Testibus, Johanne Laton, Thomâ Clarvaux, Thomâ Orston Rectore de Hurworth, Willielmo North, Willelmo Taylor de Erehome et aliis.——[Probat. coram Episcopo apud Stokton 18 Maii 1431.]

[1] Lionel de Claxton was, in his younger days, a school-boy at Durham, and, in consequence of a bloody nose, which he caused or received when fighting with one of his school-fellows, it became necessary to re-consecrate the Abbey Churchyard, which had been polluted by the shedding of blood. It had been necessary, at an earlier period, to re-consecrate the Church of Houghton-le-Spring, for a similar reason. During an inroad of the Scots, in the time of Bruce, a villager had concealed himself in the belfry, and, in descending, after the danger was over, had fallen to the ground, and lost his life.

[1] These Inventories contain the IMPLEMENTS and BOOKS of the College of Aukland upon the accession of Willian Thomeson to the Deanery in 1498. Early catalogues of collections of books, public or private, are always peculiarly valuable, for reasons into which we need not here enter. In this case the list will be read with great interest, as the Collegiate Church of Auckland was the School in which many of the young nobility and gentry of the North of England were educated. This fact seems to be proved by the following extract from the yearly Account Roll of Nicholas Kelchith, who was clerk of the works to Bishop Booth. "Solut' Johanni Robson carpentario, super factura ij novorum lectorum bord apud Denry ex mandato Domini pro pueris Domini ffezhw et Domini lovell ix^d^." Each bed, therefore, cost 4½^d^. The sons of Lord Fitzhugh, in the above year, were Richard, then 12 years of age, and John, Thomas, George, and Edward, one or more of whom might, perhaps, be at school with their brother. The son of Lord Lovel was Francis, afterwards Lord Lovel himself, and then eight years of age.

* The Wills and Inventories thus designated are transcribed from the Registers of the Consistory Court of Durham. The absence of an asterisk implies, except when otherwise specified, that the document is copied from the original Will or Inventory.

1 Sir John Bulmer, Knt., married first, Anne, daughter of Sir Ralph Bigod; and secondly, Margaret, illegitimate daughter of Edward Stafford, Duke of Buckingham, who was beheaded in 1521—and having joined in the Pilgrimage of Grace, was attainted of high treason, and forfeited his estates to the crown. William Bulmer, his (second) son, above-mentioned, was ancestor of the Bulmers of Levenige, Co. York.

2 The will of a junior branch of the great family of Bulmer, of Wilton, in Cleveland, who lived, probably, upon a farm let to him by his master (as he calls him), at a mere nominal rental.

[1] Thomas Spark, a monk of Durham, was constituted Suffragan Bishop of Berwick by Bishop Tunstall, under the Act 26. Henr. VIII., having previously been Prior of Holy Island. See his will hereafter.

[2] These notices are valuable. Here is a will, accompanied by an inventory, both acknowledgedly in the hand-writing of the Curate of the parish. Hymers was a Durham man, and his inventory goes far to prove that he was a schoolmaster upon the island. The Reveleys were men of considerable property at Ancroft, &c., upon the main land, but within the parish.

1 Thomas Grey, afterwards Sir Thomas Grey, of Horton, Knight, married Dorothy, daughter of Ralph Lord Ogle, and dying at his house, in Bethnal Green, London, on the 7th, was buried at St. Botolph's, Aldgate, on the 10th Aug., 1590, leaving ten daughters and coheiresses, of whom Isabel, the eldest, married Sir Ralph Grey, of Chillingham, Knt., whose third son, Sir Edward Grey, was the founder of the family of Grey of Howick.

2 Lionel Grey was Gentleman Porter of Berwick. His name frequently occurs in the proceedings of the Borders.

An unpublished marriage settlement of the family of Grey, of Horton, dated in 1493, is not devoid of interest, not only as a specimen of the English language of the period, but as informing us of the marriage portion of a young lady of rank at that time, [she was of the great family of Swinhoe, of Rock Castle,] and of the means taken to secure it. The testator was, in all probability, the eldest son of this marriage.

[3] Robert Aske was the chief promoter of the northern rebellion, generally termed the Pilgrimage of Grace, in 1536, the object of which was the re-establishment of such monasteries as, being under the yearly value of £200, had a few months before been dissolved by act of parliament. The rebellion was soon suppressed, and Aske was pardoned. We have here an affectionate bequest to him by one who was grateful to him for his exertions, although they had been unsuccessful.

[1] John Carr, of Hetton, in the parish of Chatton, and father of Thomas Carr, who, by his marriage with Elizabeth Heron, grand-daughter and heir of Sir William Heron, of Ford Castle, became possessed of Ford and other large estates in Northumberland. This marriage caused much commotion. The Herons of Chipchase, Meldon, &c., pretending that the Ford estates were entailed upon male heirs, proceeded, not by law, but by open violence, to eject Carr from possession. In a skirmish, arising out of this quarrel, Robert Barrow, Mayor of Berwick, lost his life under the walls of Ford Castle.

[2] It is very probable that the Carrs of Northumberland, and the Kers of Cesford, in Scotland, were one and the same family.

[1] Sir Robert Bowes, Knight, son of Sir Ralph Bowes, of Streatlam Castle, and younger brother of Sir Ralph Bowes, who was knighted after the battle of Floddon in 1513. Sir Robert Bowes was more than once an Ambassador in Scotland and Warden of the Marches. In this latter capacity, he compiled two very elaborate surveys of the Borders, the former (in which he was assisted by Sir Ralph Ellerker) in 1542, and the latter in 1550. Both are printed in Hodgson's NORTHUMBERLAND.

1 The Will and Inventory, valuable specimens of North Tynedale English at the period, are both in the same hand-writing, either that of the Testator or of the Curate of Elsdon, one of the witnesses. The name of William Hall Clerke is an interlineation. The Reeds were, and are still, a numerous clan in the parish of Elsdon. The Testator appears to have lived nearly thirty years after his will was made.

2 The chief of the family of Collingwood, which ramified into the adjacent villages of Titlington, Great and Little Ryle, &c. George Collingwood, of Eslington, Esq. took an active part in the Rebellion of 1715, and was executed at Liverpool, 25th Feb. He was advanced in years, and afflicted with the gout; and the story goes, that foreseeing the result of the enterprise, although well affected to the cause, he for some time declined joining the rebels, until his wife literally forced him to mount his horse, telling him sarcastically that she had long been aware of having a fool for her husband, and that she feared he was a coward into the bargain.

CXX. JANE LAWSON.[1]

In the name of God the Father Almightye, Amen. The seconde daye of June, in the yere of our Lord a thousand fyve hundreth fyftie and seven. I Jane Lawson of Nesham, within ye countye of Durysme, not knowing ye hour of my deathe, provydethe for my Soule's health, makyng my last will and testamente as followeth: fyrst I forsake this myserable worlde, the pompes, and all the glorye of it, and I gyve wth a free wyll my soule to the Father of Heaven, besechynge him for his great mercy's sake, and for the love of his Sonne Jesus Christe, to have mercy upon me pardon and forgyve me all my synnes that ever I have commytted and done agaynst the goodness of God and all the worlde, which worlde I yet and ever more forsake, and I beseche the Blyssed Virgin Saynte Marye the Mother of Christe, and all the heavenly company in heaven, to praye for me; and I gyve my bodye to the earthe from whence it came, and to be beryed before the high aulter withyn the quyre of Hurworth Church; and also I gyve to the forsayd hyghe aulter one vestemente of blak velvet; and also my will is, that Sir John Fawcett, prest, pray and singe for my soule the space of one holle yere at Hurworth Church; his wages shall be vj^l^.

[1] Daughter of William Lawson, of Cramlington, Esq., and the last Prioress of the Monastery of Nesham. Mr. Surtees has printed this will, III. 264, and has observed that it contains a curious mixture of worldly wealth and religious feeling. It is given here chiefly as a suitable accompaniment to the Inventory of the deceased Prioress, which Mr. Surtees had not seen, and which proves that the Prioress had, after her ejection, become a farmer. She had, however, her domestic chapel, of which some curious particulars may be gathered from the Inventory.

[1] This was that Sir Robert Constable of most infamous memory, who, eight years afterwards, endeavoured, under the garb of friendship, to entrap the Earl of Westmorland, after the failure of his rebellion in 1569.—V. Sadler's State Papers II., 21, 57, 97, 118. A more detestable character does not pollute the pages of history. He was son and heir of Sir Marmaduke Constable, to whom the site and possessions of the Benedictine Nunnery of Nun Eaton, in Warwickshire, had been granted after the Dissolution; and at the date of the above will resided at Wallington, having married Dorothy, widow of Sir Roger Fenwick. He was at the same time owner of Nun Eaton (the Nowneton of the will), of which the husband of the Testatrix had probably been the tenant. The motives which had induced this Warwickshire lady to desert her county and friends, are partly alluded to in the will. The reasons why she appointed Sir Robt. Constable her residuary legatee, are, perhaps, for his sake as well forgotten.

[1] A domestic, apparently, in Auckland Castle, under Bishop Pilkington, the first protestant Bishop of Durham. This Will, in numerous points of view, is peculiarly important, and it becomes the more interesting from the fact that its maker died by an untimely death, as is proved by the following original letter from the Chancellor of the Diocese to his Registrar, which is folded up along with it :—

Mr Chaitor

This bearer is Seymo^r^ brother that was slayne at awkeland by gregson, and albeit the said Seymo^r^ made the will herin enclosed and made disposers therof m^r^ Shaw m^r^ rooles & m^r^ hawkins yet none of them will stand to execut the testament as I my selue have hard them say all, according whervnto you may nowe recorde m^r^ hawkins refusall p'sently, now albeit this bearer frances Semo^r^ is admitted by me to administer his brothers goodes & sworn also, yet in any wes I will have him charged in the leter of administration and bownde to my lord of duresm to p'fourme all legacies in this said will conteyned and especiel if he can provid no other su'eties to Kepe my lord harmles, to pay the said legacies & fathfully adminster then you may take m^r^ hawkins only bownd w^t^ him and for him.

As for busbyes matter I can say no more then I present told and as for the old proces done at York I saw the same wordes vsed and only above ten tymes in the same case albeit m^r^ farley cavilleth w^t^ my proces. I entend this wek to go into lancashire and so after to York, you may (if it seem good to you) let busby retourne the ma'datu' and say I am not in the cowntre m^r^ garnet shall kepe the Seane for me & m^r^ gilpin will preach then. ther is litell to do other then I have writen to m^r^ garnet. as for the courtes I may play awhile in foure years, at Segfeld this sonday the 23 septembr 1565.

1 Crawley Tower, now in ruins, stands upon a most commanding situation in an old Roman camp, on the north side of the vale of Whittingham, in Northumberland. The deceased was son of John Heron, who is known by the name of "the Bastard Heron," in the history of the battle of Floddon Field, and who was eventually slain by the Scots. He was an illegitimate son of Sir Roger Heron, of Ford Castle, Knight. Thomas Heron, the son of William Heron, the deceased, was a Newcastle merchant, and died in 1582.

[1] The Swinhoes had been owners of Rock for many years, and had ranked with the very first families in the North of England. The estate had, a few years before the date of the above will, passed by an heiress to the family of Lawson. Here is one of the old line with the education of a gentleman (for his will is in his own hand-writing, and few gentlemen at that period could have better acquitted themselves in a similar task,) permitted to linger upon the estate of his forefathers as a farmer, with nothing to leave but his wife's cloaths, and his stock and crop. The termination of his will is perfectly unique, and expressive of strong feeling and resignation.

[1] The Salvins, of Croxdale, have for many centuries ranked among the chief gentry of the Palatinate. The deceased appears to have occupied considerable portions of his estate, but so did almost every great landed proprietor of the period. With the exception of the fee simple of his estates, the wealth of a person of this rank consisted chiefly in his stock and crops.

[1] Thomas Sparke, a Monk of Durham—of Durham College, Oxford—B. D. 1 March, 1528-9.—Prior of Holy Island—Suffragan Bishop of Berwick upon Tweed, under Tunstall, Bishop of Durham, in 1537, by the act 26 Henry VIII.—consecrated by Lee, Archbishop of York, in the same year—Master of Gretham Hospital, in 1541—First Prebendary of the third stall in Durham Cathedral, in May, 1542—Rector of Wolsingham in 1547. His will, which is printed at length in RAINE'S NORTH DURHAM, p. 128, and which is of a very interesting nature, makes provision for his burial in Durham Cathedral, in front of the altar at which he had officiated when a Monk; but Chambre, the Durham Historian, states that his steward and executor sold the marble slab, which the Bishop had, in his life-time, prepared for the purpose of covering his remains, to one of the Prebendaries, and buried his master at Gretham. For other particulars relative to Bishop Sparke, whose name has so often occurred in the preceding pages, the reader is referred to the History of NORTH DURHAM.

[1] Here at least is a real Albany Fetherstonhaugh—one who does not merely exist in a ballad—and here is somewhat of Haltwhistle, although no mention is made of "the Baily." Who knows whether this very will might not have been before Mr. Surtees, when the wicked idea entered his head of imposing upon Sir Walter Scott one of his most dexterous fabrications? How far he succeeded may be seen in the Minstrelsy of the Scottish Border and in Marmion.

[1] The identical person whom Bishop Ridley addressed in his memorable farewell letter to his friends before his martyrdom at Oxford, in 1555, as "my welbeloved and worshipfull Cosin Master Nich. Ridley, of Willimotswicke." Mr. Surtees was in possession of a full pedigree of the family of Ridley, of Willimotswick, down to Musgrave Ridley, whose estate was sequestered by Parliament for his adherence to King Charles I., beneath which he has left, suo more, the following stanzas referring to the great Rebellion, and its consequences :—

"When fell the Ridley's martial line,
Lord William's ancient towers,
Fair Ridley on the silver Tyne,
And sweet Thorngrafton's bowers ;

All felt the plunderer's cruel hand,
When legal rapine through the land
Stalk'd forth with giant stride ;
When loyalty successless bled,
And truth and honour vainly sped
Against misfortune's tide."

The Castle of Willimotswick is now in ruins.

1 John Billingham, of Crook Hall, in the suburbs of Durham, married first Alice, daughter of Ralph Claxton, of Wynyard, Esq., and secondly, Elizabeth, daughter of Roger Swinburne, of Edlingham, Esq, and widow of John Hall, of Conset. The Billinghams of Crook Hall, were descended from John the Cowhird, of Billingham, who had the luck to marry a sister of Richard Kellaw, Bishop of Durham, in the time of Edward II. From this period the family assumed the local name of Billingham, and settled at Crook Hall, where, until the year 1657, they resided, and ranked among the principal gentry of the county.

[1] The Hall exists in its original extent, but its tables and dressers and carpet clothes and cushions and green hangings, and its spear, staff, and black bill are matters of history. It is used as a wash-house and lumber-room. Its roof and windows prove it to be not later than the reign of Edward III. The shape of the latter has given to it the name of the Chapel, by which alone it is now designated.

This Inventory is particularly valuable for the light which it throws upon the domestic economy of a person of this rank at the period. The deceased farmed a portion of his own land. He grew his own corn, and he heckled, or combed, and then spun his own flax and wool; he killed his own beef, and there are numerous other curious inferences to be drawn from this document.

[1] This person seems to have retired from a military life, with his spear-staves and banners and "ancyents," and other armour all enumerated, to farm the estate of "Sackerstone hughe," hodie Saggerston heugh, a name partly derived from its situation, and partly from the Sacrist of Durham, to whose office it was appropriated before the Dissolution. One would like to know what were the "small Englishe bookes" in which he occasionally amused himself, and which were valued at only 3s. 4d. He once had a taste for music, as appears by his 'olde syttrone" and his "broken gyttrone."

NEWCASTLE: PRINTED AT THE COURANT OFFICE,
BY J. BLACKWELL AND CO.

THE SURTEES SOCIETY.

Copy of a Letter, explaining the objects of the Society, circulated with the outlines of its proposed Rules, as agreed upon at a Preliminary Meeting held on the 17th of April, 1834, subject to the revision and amendments of the Meeting of the 27th of May following [1834], when the Society was to be established:—

SIR,

Several Gentlemen of literary character, personal friends of the late ROBERT SURTEES, of Mainsforth, Esq. the Author of the splendid and elaborate History of the County Palatine of Durham, of which three volumes are already published, and the fourth far advanced in the press, have requested me, as the intimate friend of Mr. Surtees for the last twenty years, his coadjutor in the Topography of the Palatinate, and the person solicited by Mrs. Surtees to complete the History which he has left imperfect, to transmit to you the preceding outlines of the Rules of a Society which they are anxious to establish in honor of his name. They are of opinion, that the foundation of a Society of the above nature, and for the above purposes, would be the best mode of evincing their respect for the Memory of one not more distinguished for his talents and attainments, than for his exalted character as an English gentleman. They conceive that a monument of this nature, combining a permanency more durable than brass or marble, with a purpose of great public utility, will the most strongly express their grief for the loss which they and the general cause of literature have sustained, and best accord with the feelings of him whom they lament, knowing, as they do, that if he had survived the completion of the work in which he was engaged, it was his intention to devote a portion of his time to the publication of more than one Manuscript comprised within their plan, now, like the other valuable Authors which they propose to bring to light, buried in the public or private libraries of the kingdom.

To illustrate very briefly the nature of the object they have in view, in order that some opinion may be formed of its utility, they beg to point out to public notice a very few only of the hitherto inedited Manuscripts connected with Durham alone,—MSS. which, in these times, few individuals would incur the risk of printing at their own cost; but which, nevertheless, afford even singly, how much more so collectively, the most valuable materials to those who are anxious to study rightly the History of our forefathers, under its different characters.

I. The Saxon interlineation of the Latin Ritual of Alcfrid, King of Northumberland (686–705) upon which Wanley has bestowed so much attention in Hickes's Thesaurus, and which has never yet been printed. There never was a time when greater attention was paid to the Saxon Language, as the very foundation of the English tongue, than at the present day; and yet this book, with all the additions it can make to the glossary of its period, is totally unknown to the philologist.

II. The Saxon interlineation of the Vulgate N. T. of Cuthbert, Bishop of Lindisfarne, (685–688) equally valuable and equally unknown.

III. Bede. Ob. Anno. 735. Of the various writings of this Venerable Author, printed in the collected edition of his Works, many, it is believed, are not his: but at all events, there are at least ten of his Treatises which have not hitherto been given to the public. The name of Bede requires no comment.

IV. The Liber Vitæ, or Book of Benefactors to the Church of Durham from its foundation at Lindisfarne to the Dissolution; written in its earlier pages in letters of gold and silver, and preserved in the British Museum; containing a mass of the most interesting information.

V. The Prose and Poetical Works of Laurence, Prior of Durham, who died in 1153.

VI. The History of Reginald, a Monk of Durham, who flourished in the middle of the twelfth century. This Author professes to write a continuation of the Miracles of St. Cuthbert, as an Appendix to those recorded by Bede; and in so doing, in recording much of the popular creed of his day with respect to miracles, details, like every other early hagiographer, very many hitherto unknown facts, illustrative of local and even of general History.

VII. Various Catalogues of the Monastic Library of the Church of Durham and its Cells, from the time of Richard the Second to the Dissolution. Such documents as these are, beyond measure, illustrative of the literature of their respective periods.

VIII. The Theological and Historical Works of John Wessington, Prior of Durham from 1416 to 1446.

IX. A Catalogue of the Malefactors who fled for refuge to the Shrine of St. Cuthbert, from the earliest recorded instance till the abolition of sanctuary, with the nature of their crimes. A publication of this nature would of necessity throw great light upon the comparative prevalence of crime and the general state of society of the north of England, during the period over which it extends.

X. The Meditations of Ughtred, a Monk of Durham, during his solitary life upon Farne Island, in the thirteenth century.

In drawing up the above brief list of inedited Authors or Documents, by way of specimen of the objects contemplated by the Society, Durham alone has been taken into consideration: and even with respect to Durham, there is much unpublished matter not here noticed. When the wide field embraced by the Society is considered, it will be manifest, that there can be no apprehension of a lack of Authors, of equal or superior importance, to engage its notice.

If it should be your wish, as a personal friend of the late Mr. Surtees, or as a favourer of the general cause of Literature, to promote the object we have in view, by becoming a Member of our proposed Society, may I beg leave to hear from you at your earliest convenience to that effect, and to solicit your attendance at Durham on the 27th of May next. If you should be unable to comply with the latter part of my request, any alterations in our proposed Rules, which you may deem it expedient to suggest to me, will be carefully taken into consideration.

I have the honour to remain,

Your most obedient humble Servant,

JAMES RAINE.

Crook Hall, Durham, 28th April, 1834.

RULES, &c.

A MEETING was held at the QUEEN'S HEAD INN, DURHAM, at one o'clock P.M., on TUESDAY, the 27th of May, 1834, JOHN RALPH FENWICK, ESQ., M.D., in the Chair, for the Establishment of a LITERARY SOCIETY, to be called

THE SURTEES SOCIETY,

In honour of the late ROBERT SURTEES, of Mainsforth, Esquire, the Author of the History of the County Palatine of Durham, and in accordance with his pursuits and plans; to have for its object the Publication of inedited Manuscripts, illustrative of the intellectual, the moral, the religious, and the social condition of those parts of England and Scotland, included on the East between the Humber and the Frith of Forth, and on the West between the Mersey and the Clyde, a region which constituted the Antient Kingdom of Northumberland. The following Rules were then agreed upon:

THE SURTEES SOCIETY

I. Shall consist of an unlimited number of Members, out of whom shall be triennially elected a President, twelve Vice-Presidents, two Treasurers, and a Secretary, who shall constitute the Council. Of this number five, including the Secretary and one of the Treasurers, shall be capable of acting as a meeting. The President shall be ineligible a second time until three years shall have elapsed from his departure from the office. The other Members of the Council shall be capable of being re-elected.

II. The Officers of the Society shall be elected at each Third Annual Meeting. Any vacancy which may occur in the Offices of Treasurer or Secretary shall be provisionally filled up by the Council.

III. Those gentlemen who have assented, or do now assent, to the general principle of its proposed Rules and Regulations, and have signified their wish to become Members, shall be deemed original Members of the Society. In the case of persons applied to previously to the 27th of May, by Mr. Raine, at the request of the Preliminary Meeting of the 17th of April, and from whom no answer has been received, the list shall be left open till the first of July next.

IV. Subsequent Members shall be elected by Ballot at the Anniversary; each Candidate having been proposed by a Member in a letter, post-paid, addressed to the Secretary, two months before the day of meeting. The Members present at the Anniversary shall alone be entitled to vote. One black ball in ten shall exclude.

V. Each Member shall pay to the Treasurers an Annual Subscription of two guineas in advance. The sum so raised shall be expended in transcribing and publishing, in a closely-printed octavo form, such inedited Manuscripts as illustrate the intellectual, the moral, the religious, and the social condition of those parts of England and Scotland, included within the above lines of demarcation, from the earliest period to the time of the Restoration,—every thing, in short, which has a tendency to throw light upon the mind, the morals, or the habits of our ancestors. No apartments shall be hired, except for the Annual Meeting. No collection of Books or of any other nature shall be formed. The Subscriptions, and the money arising from the sale of Books under a subsequent Rule, shall be solely devoted to the transcribing of MSS., the expenses of the press, and other incidental expenses.

VI. The Council shall itself supply matter for the press for the first year. Afterwards it shall annually call upon twenty Members, in alphabetical order, for notices of MSS. which they who are applied to would recommend to be printed. These notices shall be sent to the Secretary within a prescribed time, accompanied by the Manuscript itself, or an analysis of its contents. But in no instance shall any Member be applied to by the Council a second time until each Member shall have had an opportunity of recommending a MS. or of waiving his turn.

VII. No MS. shall be sent to the press by the Council, without the sanction of a majority of the Members. In order to obtain this sanction, the Council shall, by their Secretary, transmit to each Member, upon a single sheet, a condensed printed account of the various analyses which have been submitted for consideration. This sheet each Member will return to the Secretary, with a mark in the margin opposite to those MSS. of which he approves the publication. The Council may, if it think fit, point out, as a matter of opinion, such in particular as it approves. The votes of Members, who return no answer, shall be at the disposal of the Council. When there is a deficiency of matter in any year, that deficiency shall be supplied by the Council.

VIII. The expense of transcribing for the press every MS. of which the publication is determined upon, under the above Rules, shall be defrayed by the Society, if the Member by whom it has been proposed should require it.

IX. No matter shall be printed in connection with any MS. save what is necessary for its illustration. A short biographical account of its Author, and brief Notes illustrative of his phraseology, and of the customs and manners and opinions of his time, will be permitted to a reasonable extent, with the modern names of the places which he mentions, and occasional notices of persons who occur in his writings. The Council shall have a discretionary power of rejecting any additions of the contributor which do not, in their opinion, come within these limitations.

X. The number of copies of each publication shall be regulated by the Council. Of these one shall be given to each Member, whose subscription is not in arrear. The rest, of which the Council shall in each case determine the number, shall be sold at the price it shall appoint. The money raised by sale to go to the general fund.

XI. The Armorial Bearings of Mr. Surtees and some other characteristic decoration connecting the Society with his name, shall be used in each publication. These embellishments shall be determined upon by the Council.

XII. The selection of a Printer and Publisher shall be left to the Council.

XIII. A List of Officers and Members, with an account of the receipts, expenses, and general proceedings of the Society, shall be annually printed, of an uniform size with its publications, and transmitted to each Member.

XIV. An Anniversary shall be held in Durham, on the second Tuesday in July, in each year, for the regulation of the affairs of the Society. The first Anniversary to be held on the second Tuesday in July, 1835. The Council shall have the power of calling extraordinary Meetings.

XV. The Society shall be answerable for no expenes which may be incurred at the Anniversary Meetings, save the hire of a Room for the transaction of its business.

XVI. No alterations shall be made in these Rules, except at an Anniversary Meeting. Three months' notice of the alterations proposed shall be submitted to each Member.

SURTEES SOCIETY,

READ AT THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY HELD AT THE WATERLOO HOTEL, DURHAM, JULY 14, 1835,

GEORGE TAYLOR, ESQ., VICE-PRESIDENT, IN THE CHAIR,

AND ORDERED TO BE PRINTED.

THE Council of the Surtees Society beg to lay before its Members the following particulars relative to the state and prospects of the Institution, in compliance with its 13th rule.

The present state of the Society is in every respect of the most gratifying and encouraging nature. When its institution was first proposed, although it combined the object of doing honour to the memory of a gentleman who had most disinterestedly and successfully devoted his rare talents and acquirements to the benefit of the public, with a plan of great public utility, long contemplated by himself, yet, even with these purposes in view, the most sanguine of its promoters did not feel themselves justified in anticipating for the first year that more than fifty members would join their intended Society. That they had greatly under-rated the extent of respectful feeling for the memory of Mr. Surtees, which existed among his personal friends and acquaintances, and the anxiety of those who had not known him to co-operate with them in paying a public and most characteristic tribute of respect to the memory of one to whom such a tribute was most pre-eminently due, by benefiting at the same time the literary public at large, has been abundantly proved. The anticipated number of Members has been more than doubled. The Society, even in the very first year of its existence, has upon its list one hundred and seven Members, many of them ranking among the very highest literary characters in the kingdom; and its Council have great pleasure in announcing that there are not fewer than twenty-five candidates for admission this day, all of whom are influenced by the same deep feeling of respect for the memory of Mr. Surtees, and the same anxiety to promote the great public purpose which the Society has in view.

When the nature of the two main objects of the Society is considered, its Council cannot refrain from expressing their confidence that its numbers will continue to increase, and its usefulness be, in consequence, promoted. The field, of which it has taken possession, has been hitherto totally unoccupied by any past or present association of literary men; and that a most abundant harvest may be reaped, even within the limits which it has prescribed to itself, will be manifest to any one acquainted with the Manuscript Catalogues of the public or private Libraries of the Kingdom. The objects which it embraces are of so general a nature, and the authors whose works come within its rules are so numerous and important, that there is no one single department of literature which may not eventually be benefited by its labours. The appellation of an Antiquarian Society, which has in more than one instance been applied to it by persons who appear not to comprehend and appreciate its real objects, it unequivocally rejects, in the usual acceptation of the term. It aims at men and manners, and leaves the painful and seldom appreciated County Historian or Parochial Topographer in full occupation of his field. It meddles not with descent of property and blood, or with heraldic or numismatic lore. It does not despise these auxiliary aids in the elucidation of historic or moral truth; on the contrary, it will avail itself of their assistance when need may require—but such investigations as constitute the leading object of our various Societies of Antiquaries, form no part of its plan. Neither can its proceedings interfere with those of the Record Commission, the object of which is to make known, under the authority of Government, the substance of those of the most important of our national and legal Records which are preserved in the official repositories of the kingdom. There exists another Commission, if it may be so termed, at the head of which stands a gentleman whose name, as a Member, does honour to the Surtees Society; a gentleman intimately acquainted with the late Mr. Surtees, and well qualified to appreciate his character as a County Historian. About twelve years ago, it was determined by the House of Commons, "That a plan should be devised for collecting, arranging, and publishing the materials for the History of Britain from the earliest times to the accession of Henry VIII." Mr. Petrie, of whom we speak, the Keeper of the National Records preserved in the Tower, was very judiciously selected as the person best qualified to devise a scheme for this mighty undertaking, and carry it into effect; and since that time he has devoted himself exclusively to the task. Possessing, as he does, the most extensive knowledge of our old Historians, and the degree of authenticity and veracity, or the contrary, which may be conceded to them, much may be expected from his labours; the more, perhaps, that he has taken due time to mature his plans—to reject the fabulous, and condense the truth. Now, to Mr. Petrie, the Historical Publications of the Surtees Society must, of necessity, be of the greatest value in the collections and arrangements in which he is engaged. There are many dark periods of English History upon which our public authorities throw only a glimmering light; and it is possible that some Author, brought before the world by the Surtees Society, after a sleep of many centuries, may essentially contribute to dispel the obscurities of the time in which he lived. By one such resuscitation, if we may so term it, History may be a great gainer; —but what if numerous other authors may be found, pressi longâ nocte, who, by the combined and steady light which they are able to throw upon the dark portions of our national history, leave us nothing further to wish for!

The Council of the Society beg to suggest that these are all weighty considerations for exertion; and they cannot refrain from expressing a confident hope, founded upon the encouragement which the Society has already received, and the progress which it has made, that the time may arrive when its funds may justify the extension of its operations, and when, no longer confined to the Saxon Kingdom of Northumberland, it may consider the whole of Britain as the field of its labours.

From these anticipations of the future, the Council call the attention of the Members of the Society to the matter of fact proceedings of the year which this day closes.

At a meeting of the Council, to whom the sixth rule gives the selection of the first year's publications, held on the 4th of December last, it was "determined that

"Four hundred copies of a MS., hitherto unpublished, entitled 'Reginaldi Monachi Dunelmensis de admirandis Beati Cuthberti virtutibus quæ novellis patratæ sunt temporibus,' be printed by the Society, the manuscript to be transcribed for the press under the direction of the Secretary, and at the expense of the Society." And it was also "ordered

"That four hundred copies of a selection from unpublished Wills and Inventories, of all classes of persons, from the eleventh century downwards, illustrating the History, Manners, Language, Statistics, &c., of their respective periods, to be transcribed under the superintendence of the Secretary, be also printed."

The first of these orders has been carried into full effect. Reginald the Monk is now public property, and whatever he contains of historical, or otherwise valuable matter, is before the world. The Council do not deem it necessary to draw the attention of the Society more particularly to the matters of history or fact detailed in this volume, as they are concisely alluded to in the Preface, which it has been considered expedient to prefix to it, and are still more minutely specified in an appended abstract of each chapter. With respect to the archaisms of our author, and other matter interesting to the Philologist, a Glossary has been added, which, it is hoped, will sufficiently explain such terms as may be new to those versed only in pure latinity. Indexes of men and places have been subjoined; and the apology for the imperfections of his compilation, which Reginald thought it necessary to make to the venerable Abbot of Rievaulx, to whom he dedicated it, let him now make to the world; and let him hope for the same favourable judgment on the merits of his performance which he doubtless received at the hands of Ethelred.

"De quibus omnibus," says he, "compacto libello, vobis transcurrendum transmittimus, et vestro examini propriè reservavimus. Erit igitur vestræ providentiæ, minùs decenter dicta immutando polire, deficientia vel omissa replendo substituere, supersticiosa vel pervacua delendo descidere, singula æquæ discretionis modulamine ponderare. Quæ vero vobis complacurint, testificando veritati certiora efficere; quæ autem in beneplacito vestro non sederint, moderato æquitatis libramine complanando corrigere."

The selection of Wills is so far advanced in the press, that it will be completed in three weeks, and the public will be put in possession of a series of the most authentic documents, abounding with the most valuable and novel information. The volume commences with the year 1095, and comes down to the year 1580. It will consist of about four hundred and thirty pages, three hundred and fifty of which are already printed; a brief temporary Introduction will be given along with it, drawing the attention of the reader to some of the more important matters which it elucidates; and an Index of Testators, &c. will be appended. These arrangements are made, partly because there will be no time for more minute and copious details and indexes, but chiefly because it is hoped by the Council that the proposal to continue the series of Wills and Inventories down to the year 1660, made by Mr. Allan, one of its Members, may eventually be carried into effect, when a general Preface, a full abstract of the valuable matter the two volumes will contain in illustration of almost every point in the history of our ancestors, and copious Indexes, will be required and supplied.

At the meeting held on the 4th December, above mentioned, the Secretary was directed to put in force that part of the sixth rule which enjoins him to call annually upon twenty Members, in alphabetical order, to supply matter for the press for the ensuing year. This order has been complied with, and letters have been received in which not fewer than seven subjects have been proposed, all of them, save one, apparently worthy of the serious attention of the Society. Although, by rule the 7th, it is not within the province of this meeting to decide which of these MSS. shall be printed, and which not, yet the Council beg to specify the subjects which have been proposed, and relative to which a circular will ere long be addressed to each Member, in conformity with that rule :—

1. A Selection from the Townley Plays, the MS. of which is written in the Dialect of Lancashire. Temp. H. vi.
2. Vita Oswini Regis Deirorum, et de miraculis ejus.
3. Watson's History of Durham. MS., about 1570.
4. Chartulary of Coldstream.
5. Registrum Cartarum de Holm juxta Alnwic.
6. Divers Catalogues of the Library of the Monks of Durham, the first dated in 1391.
7. A Continuation of the volume of Wills and Inventories.

That seven such subjects as the above should be in one year proposed, is a sufficient proof that the Society has upon its list men who thoroughly understand its objects, and are anxious to benefit it by their labours.

The Accounts of the Society stand as follows :—

Account of the Treasurers of the Surtees Society for the Year 1834–5.

Received Subscriptions of 107 Members, -	£224	14	0	Paid Messrs. Blackwell & Co. for printing REGINALD and the volume of WILLS, &c., including the carriage of proof sheets from Durham, the printing of Rules and this Report, the binding 200 copies of each volume, and the Engraver's bill for the crest and three wood-cuts, -	£181	13	0
				To Mr. Humble for circulars, - - -	6	11	0
				To Mrs. Andrews for Stationery and carriage of proof sheets to Durham,	6	11	6
				For transcribing portions of Reginald, and the volume of Wills, &c.,†	17	0	0
				For postage, &c.,	4	9	8½
					£219	5	2½
				Balance due from the Treasurers, -	5	8	9½
					£224	14	0

After presenting these statements relative to the proceedings of the Society during the first year of its existence, the Council, in conclusion, pledge themselves to make every exertion in their power towards carrying into full effect, as far as they are concerned, the two-fold object contemplated in its establishment—the doing honour to the memory of Mr. Surtees, by publishing, in accordance with his intentions and plans, such antient and hitherto inedited Authors as tend to illustrate the intellectual, the moral, the religious, and the social condition of our ancestors within the period and limits prescribed.

Durham, July 13, 1835.

* The Society is indebted to Thomas Willement, Esq., now one of its members, for the suggestion of this most appropriate embellishment. It is, in fact, the seal of Sir Thomas Surtees, of Dinsdale, who was Senescal of the Palatinate under Bishops Beaumont and Bury, in the earlier part of the fourteenth century, mutato nomine, with the addition of the family crest.

† Considerable portions of Reginald were gratuitously transcribed by members of the Society and others.
